

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

REPORT OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE.

OFFICE OF SECRETARY OF STATE,
COLUMBUS, O., November 15, 1881.

To His Excellency, CHARLES FOSTER, Governor of Ohio:

SIR: In obedience to law, I have the honor herewith to submit the annual report of this department for the fiscal year ending the 15th day of November, 1881.

CORPORATIONS.

During the year there have been filed in this office seven hundred and thirty-eight articles of incorporation; four hundred and ninety-six with capital stock, and two hundred and forty-two without capital stock.

Fifty-six certificates of increase of capital stock, and six certificates of reduction of capital stock have also been filed.

Of the corporations created as above stated, one hundred and seventy-two are manufacturing companies; thirty-one mining companies; sixty-seven railroad companies; forty-seven building and loan associations; sixteen printing and publishing companies; nineteen electric light companies; five gas companies; four co-operative store companies; three fire-insurance companies; four mutual fire associations; fifteen telegraph and telephone companies; thirteen cemetery associations; two savings and loan associations; sixty-five mutual aid associations; one hundred and fifty-two religious societies and benevolent associations; four colleges and literary societies; and ninety various other companies, societies and associations. In addition to these, there have been filed fifteen agreements of consolidation of railroad companies. Beside these, there have been filed and recorded a large number of miscellaneous papers. Tabular and classified statements of the instruments named above are prepared, and will appear in the subsequent pages of this report.

There has been an increase of the capital stock of corporations, organized previous to this fiscal year just closed, of $46,019,125, and a reduction of the capital stock of like corporations of $1,205,000. The capital stock of companies, incorporated during the present fiscal year, is $310,029,950. Two hundred and thirty-five corporations have filed certificates, showing that ten per centum of their capital stock has been subscribed.

The records of incorporations have become very voluminous, filling twenty-three large volumes. The general index of such records is imperfect, making it very laborious to trace the history of the various corporations, whose original papers and various changes have been filed and recorded. A new and complete general index, of proper form, is much needed for the convenience of the office and the public. I respectfully ask that an appropriation be made for such purpose.

MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS.

During the year ten villages and one hamlet have been incorporated; to fifteen, territory has been annexed; two villages have been advanced to cities of the second class, fourth grade. In the case of the village of Columbus Grove, Putnam county, the original papers having been lost, copies from the records of said county have been filed, pursuant to a special act of the General Assembly, passed at the recent adjourned session of that body.

REVISED STATUTES.

Since I assumed the duties of secretary of state, the county auditors of the following counties have settled with this office for Revised Statutes, and of whom I have received the amounts following, to wit: from Washington, $127.50; Scioto, $10.00; Noble, $15.00; Champaign, $137.50; Morgan, $59.85; Adams, $62.50; Cuyahoga, $719.80; Preble, $5.00; Ross, $237.50; Putnam, $89.75; Erie, $157.50; Seneca, $240.00; total, $1,861.90; I have also sold sixty-seven copies of volume 1, and sixty-four copies of volume 2, and have received therefor the sum of $327.50, which amounts I have duly covered into the state treasury.

I have in my custody, eighteen hundred and fifty copies of Volume one, and two thousand copies of Volume two of the Revised Statutes, which may soon lose all value, as books of law, because of a later publication of the work.

SUPREME COURT REPORTS.

In compliance with an order of the Supreme Court, made at the January term, 1881, and section 434 of the Revised Statutes, I have issued, from this office, Supreme Court reports as follows: One copy of vol. 9 to the clerk of Champaign county Court of Common Pleas; to the state law library, one copy of vol. 9; to the attorney-general, one copy of vol. 35; to Judge Swing, of the U. S. District Court, one copy of

vol. 35 ; to states and territories, eleven copies of vol. 32, eleven copies of vol. 33, eleven copies of vol. 34, and thirty-three copies of vol. 35.

Vol. 36 of the reports is published and ready for disposition as directed by law.

STATIONERY.

In making the purchases of stationery, required by section 137, Revised Statutes, I advertised for sealed proposals to furnish such quantities, according to samples furnished by dealers, as in my opinion were necessary to supply the demand of the legislature and state officers, and awarded the contracts to the lowest bidders.

The adoption of the system of competitive bids in the purchase of these articles has, I believe, been advantageous to the state. A detailed statement of such purchases will be found in this report.

PAPER CONTRACTS.

As required by the act of March 18, 1881, the commissioners of public printing, after having given due notice by advertisement for bids of the several kinds of paper for the state, for the ensuing year, on the 15th day of September, 1881, duly opened the several bids, and it appearing that the following persons were the lowest and best bidders, and their bonds being duly approved, awarded the several contracts to them, as follows: Miami Valley Paper Co., double super-royal, at  $8\frac{4}{100}$  cents per pound; Cleveland Paper Co., double flat cap, at  $12\frac{21}{100}$  cents per pound; and to same company, folio post, at  $12\frac{20}{100}$  cents per pound; H. W. Derby, flat cap, at  $12\frac{40}{100}$  cents per pound; demy, at  $16\frac{40}{100}$  cents per pound; imperial, at 20 cents per pound; Friend and Fox Paper Co., brochure cover, at  $10\frac{4}{100}$  cents per pound. These contracts are very favorable to the state.

When I entered upon the duties of secretary of state, January 10, 1881, the appropriation which was made to cover the year ending February the 15th, 1881, was exhausted. On said 15th day of February, 1881, valid bills for paper and stationery had been presented, amounting, in the aggregate, to $13,840.29, which there was no appropriation to meet. A portion of this was for purchases made by my predecessor. An examination of the detailed stationery account, published in this report, will show a double purchase of stationery within the fiscal year just closed. This is accounted for by the fact that, for the fiscal year preceding, the purchases of stationery for the legislature and state officers, required by section 137, Revised Statutes, were not made until after the close of such fiscal year.

The appropriation for stationery made to cover the period from February 15, 1881, to February 15, 1882, was $50,000, a sum wholly insufficient to pay for the paper furnished under the contracts made by my predecessor. The paper supplied under such contracts cost the sum of $63,978.88. Other papers not included in such contracts, and required for the use of the state, have been supplied at a cost of $3,926.70. The appropriation of $50,000, mentioned above, is all that was furnished to meet the above purchases and the purchases of miscellaneous stationery. The paper used has been largely in excess of the estimates made by my predecessor, such excess being caused by the increased size of some of the annual reports and the publication of the report of the State Board of Equalization. I deem it proper to make these statements, in order to explain the deficiency in the appropriation for stationery which exists, and for which the General Assembly will be called upon to provide.

STATISTICS.

I am glad to state that the various officers who have been called upon for statistical reports have furnished them with a good degree of promptness and accuracy.

I regret to say, however, that many of the statistical tables are unsatisfactory and incomplete.

The defects are mainly attributable to the imperfections of our system of collecting statistics. The township assessors, who are charged with the duty of collecting various statistical facts, which are made the basis of reports of county officers, generally consider such duties of minor importance, their main attention being given to the listing of property for taxation.

From this cause many statistical facts, bearing upon the material growth and development of various sections of the state, are imperfectly reported.

Much fuller reports and greater accuracy would be obtained if assessors were relieved of such duties, and the county auditors or probate judges authorized to appoint persons to collect statistical information with special reference to their fitness for such work. One such person could collect such information in three or four townships, and, by giving his whole attention to the subject, could perform the duties more thoroughly, and the reports obtained would be much more reliable and satisfactory.

This change in the system would be attended with little, if any, additional cost. Assessors are now paid by the day for doing such work, and if relieved of such duties, their reduced compensation would almost, if not fully, pay the other officers appointed to discharge them. In the county of Hamilton the township and ward assessors are not charged with the duty of collecting and reporting vital statistics, and it is made the duty of physicians and professional midwives to keep a registry of births and to report the same to the probate judge every three months; and, in case there is no physician or midwife in attendance at any birth, it is made the duty of the parents to report the same to that office within one month. It is made the duty of physicians, clergymen and sextons to keep a registry of deaths, and report the same in the same manner. Such reports are required to be made under a penalty of ten dollars for each neglect, to be sued for and recovered in the name of the state. This system has proved to be impracticable, and it is impossible, under it, to obtain reliable statistical information. This will readily be seen by an examination of the reports of births and deaths in Hamilton county, published in previous statistical reports of this department.

The Hon. Isaac B. Matson, probate judge of said county, in a letter addressed to this office, January 13, 1881, says, "very few persons, who are required by law to do so, make reports of births and deaths to this office. It is the desire of this office to obtain full reports, and it has been our custom, for several years past, to frequently notify physicians, midwives, ministers and sextons of the provisions of the law and the penalty for neglecting to report. Thousands of circulars, blanks, notices and requests have been sent out to persons, whose duty it is to report to this office, and the total result of all our labor, and the workings of the law is embodied in our reports to you. Until it shall be made the duty of some person to enforce the penalty of the law, we cannot hope for much fuller reports in this county."

I am of opinion that the change in the system suggested above, would be equally applicable to Hamilton county, and that its adoption would secure reasonably reliable statistics from all the counties in the state.

I respectfully invite the attention of the General Assembly to this important subject.

FEEES.

In compliance with the act of April 18th, 1881, I have kept an account of fees received, amounting to $1,162.30; of which I retained $1,000.00, and duly covered the sum of $162.30 into the state treasury.

OLD BOOKS.

As instructed by joint resolution No. 84, of the Sixty-fourth General Assembly, I sold of old and useless books, as waste paper, 39,440 pounds, at $2.61 per cwt. without covers; and the covers at 62½ cents per cwt., for which I received $823.67, which sum of money I duly covered into the state treasury.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

In pursuance of law, I have sold two copies of standard weights and measures at their total cost price of $240.00; which sum of money I have duly turned into the state treasury. One set I sold to the city of Newark, and one set to the village of Troy.

This department is in possession of no copies of standard weights and measures for distribution to counties, and sale to cities and villages, as is required by sections 143 and 145 of the Revised Statutes, and I am unable to find such instruments in the market. To comply with the necessity and law in the matter, one dozen or more copies of these standards should be manufactured immediately. For this purpose, an appropriation is much needed.

INCREASE OF BUSINESS.

Owing to the general growth and development of the state, the great increase of business and enterprise, the great and increasing tendency to do business by means of corporations, and the additional duties which, by law, have been devolved upon the secretary of state, one of the more important being the duty of reading the proofs, preparing the side-notes and indexing the annual volume of laws, the business of this department has greatly increased. Since the year 1875, the business connected with filing and recording the various papers of corporations has almost doubled.

The increase since last fiscal year has been over thirty-five per cent. The other business of the office has increased in even larger proportion, making it necessary for additional clerical force to properly discharge the duties of the office, which I hope will be provided for by the General Assembly.

The subsequent pages of this report will contain an official roster of state and county officers, and of the state institutions, and statistical tables of incorporations of the fiscal year; a detailed statement of the stationery and paper account of this office, election statistics, educational statistics, judicial statistics, social statistics, vital statistics, statistics of public debt, property and taxation, banks and bonds, conveyance statistics, agricultural statistics, statistics of mining, labor, trade and commerce, and other important statistical facts.

I have the honor to be,

Very respectfully, your ob't servant,

CHARLES TOWNSEND,
Secretary of State.

Presidents of the United States and their Cabinets,
FROM 1789-1881.

<sup>1</sup> Arthur St. Clair, of Pennsylvania, was governor of the North-west Territory, of which Ohio was a part, from July 13, 1788, when the first civil government was established in the Territory, until about the close of the year 1802, when he was removed by the president.

<sup>4</sup> Return Jonathan Meigs was elected governor on the second Tuesday of October, 1807, over Nathaniel Massie, who contested the election of Meigs on the ground "that he had not been a resident of this State for four years next preceding the election as required by the Constitution," and the General Assembly, in joint convention, decided that he was not eligible. The office was not given to Massie, nor does it appear from the records that he claimed it, but Thomas Kirker, acting governor, continued to discharge the duties of the office until December 12, 1808, when Samuel Huntington was inaugurated, he having been elected on the second Tuesday of October in that year.

<sup>8</sup> The result of the election in 1848 was not finally determined in joint convention of the two houses of the General Assembly until January 19, 1849, and the inauguration did not take place until the 22d of that month.

<sup>9</sup> Resigned July 15, 1853, to accept the office of Consul to Valparaiso.

<sup>10</sup> Elected in October, 1853, for the regular term, to commence on the second Monday of January, 1854.

<sup>12</sup> Resigned March 2, 1877, to accept the office of President of the United States.

* Acting Governor. Succeeded to office, being the Speaker of the Senate.

† Acting Governor. Succeeded to office, being the Lieutenant-governor.

<sup>1</sup>Mr. Gardiner's seat was contested, on the grounds that he had "published and circulated a certain hand-bill, addressed to the free and independent voters of Greene county," bearing date September 7, 1825, in which, among other things, the said James B. Gardiner did promise to the electors of the county of Greene, that if elected to a seat in the House of Representatives, he would use his best exertions to have "the obnoxious and unconstitutional compensation law repealed", and the wages reduced to two dollars; but that if his exertions should prove unavailing, he would then draw the said dollar per day from the treasury, and as soon as he returned home, he would deposit it with the county commissioners for the use of the people of Greene county.

The Committee on Privileges and Elections, December 10, reported that "this promise did produce an effect upon the electors of Greene county favorable to the election of the said James B. Gardiner," and recommended the adoption of the following resolution, which was adopted by a vote of yeas 44, nays 25, viz.: "Resolved, That James B. Gardiner is not entitled to a seat in the General Assembly of the state of Ohio, as a representative from the county of Greene, and that he is incapable of holding a seat in the House of Representatives for two years;" whereupon the speaker declared the seat vacant. On December 12, Mr. McHard moved to reconsider the action of the House, so far as it prohibited Gardiner from holding a seat in the Legislature for two years, which was agreed to—yeas 48, nays 18; and the resolution disqualifying the member for two years was indefinitely postponed. On January 2, Mr. Sanderson presented the certificate of election of James B. Gardiner, returned a member from Greene county. Whereupon Mr. Kendall presented a memorial, setting forth that the Constitution declared that "any person who shall directly or indirectly give, promise, or bestow any reward to be elected, shall thereby be rendered ineligible for two years to serve in the office for which he is elected," and that the seat of James B. Gardiner, heretofore returned a member from the county of Greene, was, on the 10th day of December last past, declared by this House to be vacant by reason that said Gardiner, at and previous to the election in October last, had been guilty of a violation of the above provision of the Constitution, and is, therefore, subject to the disability which it declares.

Thereupon a resolution was adopted by 45 yeas to 25 nays, declaring that the said Gardiner was this time incapable to serve as a representative in the General Assembly.

General Assembly of Ohio,
FOR THE YEAR 1881.

21 s.s.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE,

COLUMBUS, OHIO, January 2, 1882.

To the General Assembly of Ohio :

In compliance with the statute, which provides that it shall be the duty of the Secretary of State, annually, to prepare, from the official reports and from whatever other reliable sources to which he may obtain access, as full, accurate, and intelligible tables of the statistics of the state as may be in his power, and report the result of his labors to the General Assembly at its next meeting, I have the honor herewith to submit my first annual report, being for the year ending November 15, 1881.

Very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

CHARLES TOWNSEND,

Secretary of State.

I cannot undertake to explain the results of placing the above statistics for three successive years, side by side. With very great labor, and the use of such checks as were at hand, the above items for the school year ending in August, 1881, have been compiled. Placed beside those of the two previous years, the showing is somewhat startling; not more so, however, than the showing between the above columns for 1879 and 1880, which are exact copies from last year's report.

STATEMENT

Showing the payments of the State Common School Fund to counties, as compared with receipts, and exhibiting excess of payments or receipts for fiscal year ending November 15, 1881; also, the enumeration of youth between six and twenty-one years of age, taken in the month of September, 1881, being the basis upon which the State Common School Fund is to be distributed in 1882.

Prepared by J. F. OGLEVEE, Auditor of State.

In this county, one indictment was found against four persons for murder in the first degree, one as principal and the others as accessories. The principal was tried, and a jury found him guilty of assault and battery. Sentence: Imprisonment in county jail for six months and a fine of $100. Two pleaded guilty to assault and battery, and received the same sentence, and the prosecuting attorney entered a nolle prosequi in the other case.

<sup>2</sup>In one of the indictments for murder in the first degree, a plea of assault and battery was accepted and a fine of $25 assessed.

*There were two prosecutions for manslaughter, and the jury found one party guilty of assault and battery. Sentence: Imprisonment in county jail.

NOTE.—Counties not mentioned in above table, do not report any prosecutions.

The above table presents the final official figures of the population of the United States at the Tenth Census, with a column showing, for comparative purposes, the population of 1870.

The figures for Indian territory and Alaska are omitted, as their inhabitants are not considered citizens. All Indians not subject to taxation are also omitted, in conformity with the census law.

The column headed "Colored" comprises only persons of African descent.

UNINCORPORATED TOWNS IN OHIO.

The following unincorporated places have been returned separately by the enumerators of the tenth census of the United States. The list is not by any means complete, as very many enumerators have failed to separate such bodies of population. The population of these places has, of course, been included in the townships in which they are separately situated. The figures can be considered as only approximate, as the limits of such places are not sharply defined.

OHIO INSTITUTION FOR THE EDUCATION OF FEEBLE-MINDED YOUTH, AT COLUMBUS.

The main building of this institution was destroyed by fire on the 18th day of November, 1881, entailing the loss of the books and papers containing the statistical information, as shown by the following letter :

"Hon. Chas. Townsend, Secretary of State :

"COLUMBUS, O., December 13, 1881.

"DEAR SIR: Your note was duly received, and should have been acknowledged at an earlier date, but the reasons which have prevented us you will readily understand.

"We very much regret to state it is impossible to furnish you with any report, owing to the destruction by fire of all of our books and papers from which statistics were compiled.

Yours, truly,

"G. A. DOREN, Superintendent."

There were re-valuations of the real property of the state for the years 1826, 1835, 1841, 1847, 1854, 1861, 1871, and 1881.

NOTE.—Prior to 1826 real estate only was brought upon the duplicate for taxation for state purposes. Funds for county purposes were derived from a poll tax, and a tax upon horses, mules, and cattle, to which was added, by legislative appropriation, a percentage from one-fifth to one-half, varying with the several years, from the taxes levied upon real estate.

Under the act of February 3, 1825, which took effect March 1, 1826, all taxable property was placed upon the grand duplicate, viz., lands and town lots, including buildings, horses, cattle, pleasure carriages, and merchants' and brokers' capital, to which was added, "money loaned at interest," and manufacturers' capital, under the act of March 14, 1831.

Under the act of March 2, 1846, a new system of taxation was inaugurated, which, with various slight modifications, is now in force.

NOTE.—The above table is made out for June 30, 1881, the date at which the railroad companies file their reports with the Commissioner. The figure references, however, mark the changes that have taken place since June 30, 1881, down to the present time March 6, 1882, so far as they have been obtained. It will further be noticed, by a reference to the preceding table of "Mileage and Valuation of Railroads," that many names of railroads are given there not mentioned in this table. This is owing to the fact that many private coal-roads, switches, and other railroads are included under their general management in this table. They do not make special reports to this office.

<sup>7</sup> J. H. Stewart and Samuel Woodard were appointed receivers about the 15th of September, 1881.

Commerce and Manufactures of Cincinnati.

COMMERCE AND MANUFACTURES OF CINCINNATI, 1881-1892.

Superintendent of the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce, for the Statistical Report of the Secretary of State.

GENERAL REVIEW.

The past year, in many respects, has been a very important one to the business interests of Cincinnati. It has been marked by strong phases, the most important being the crystallization of transportation agencies in connection with the city, that must make a powerful impress on the future progress of the city. Cincinnati, because of the devotion of the enterprise and capital of the country to the building of great railway lines, practically pursuing the parallels of latitude, and the little attention bestowed on the North and South lines of railway, was, until late years, comparatively neglected, so far as the building up of long lines of rail transportation, immediately and largely interested in its development, was concerned, its growth having been traceable more to internal and local strength than to remote extraneous agencies. The absence of quick and free communication between the North and South made the war possible, and prepared the way for all the tremendous changes which followed, among them being the connection of the systems of railways in the North and South by trunk lines. Instead of the unsatisfactory one of a few years ago, we now virtually have three southern lines, with the fourth to inevitably follow. To these railroad interests to the southward, Cincinnati is a pivotal point. Not any more from what the city has done, than what it is. The Cincinnati Southern Railway was born of a necessity which was felt thirty years before it was undertaken. Nature has given this city the position of gateway between the two localities, not by the erection of impassable barriers in other directions, but by the position which the city sustains geographically, being on the natural line of transportation between the North and South, and between the north-east, and south-west, to which should be added the advantages which always come from established agencies. Not only have there been very important developments in the systems which are to connect distant districts, but the public mind has been more thoroughly aroused as to the facilities for bringing these lines of railway into close relations here, and all the lines into more intimate and direct connection with our warehouses and manufactories, for if the city does not make the lines practically one on its own ground, they will seek the same end in other directions, where we shall have neither direct nor indirect benefits. Then, all the great commercial interests have never been on such broad foundations. Provincial methods have been waning, and there has been a more complete adjustment of our business to the new and increased requirements of the times. Especially, since the war, has public attention been directed to reducing the cost of transacting business, to which almost all the projects of local transportation development are now directed. In this direction, the number of large manufacturing establishments which of late have been erected, and are now in process of erection, on the lines of railway in Mill Creek Valley, where costs of cartage are largely diminished, is a very significant feature. As making valuable contributions to this end, it may be remarked that the taxes imposed on the city for 1881 have been largely reduced, compared with the previous year, the amount of the entire levy, on $100, for all purposes, having been reduced from $3.10 to $2.22. River transportation business was seriously interfered with by the cold weather of the winter, the lateness of the spring, and the low water of the summer; and steamboating, in consequence, was less favorable to those conducting it, than for a number of years, but it was a visitation of the elements, and not anything inherent in the business, which was never in a condition for more active prosecution. The year to the railroads depending on local freight was mainly a favorable one, while to the trunk lines between the western cities and the East, it was marked in the late months by the most extraordinary competition, and by a demoralization as to rates which was without precedent, and, it might be added, without any permanent good to general business, which thrives best when conditions are normal. The latter part of the year sustained a temporary business shock in the assassination of James A. Garfield, President of the United States. From this, however, there was a speedy reaction when it became clear that it was the personal act of a murderer, who, in the diabolical deed, in no wise reflected the intent of any one save himself. The general features of the year, to trade, have been mainly satisfactory. Our merchants have made important progress in the South. The credit of our customers has been well sustained, paper having been paid with commendable promptness. This refers to the year in general, rather than the later months, which were materially affected by the influence of the dry weather on the crops, that at last became alarming. This continued, with the progress of the summer, and was no more serious in its immediate effects than in the manner which it threatened to impair the winter's business, by the curtailment of the resources of the agricultural interests, and by affecting the tone of business in the coming year. These influences, however serious for the time being, were but temporary, and do not affect the general conditions of solvency which prevail. There have been here but few failures, and these are not traceable to any general weakness. The amount of banking capital has been largely increased, and the enterprises projected give promise, in the coming year, of very important additions to our facilities for the handling of grain and other commodities. The year has been distinguished by the large number of buildings erected in various parts of the city, both for business and residence, many of the former having been very commodious structures, and all making important architectural contributions to the city. Our Industrial Expositions have more than maintained their high standard of excellence, and the enterprises, both public and private, for the advancement of art have received great stimulation. Especially has this been manifest in providing the means for the establishment, in Eden Park, on a grand scale, of an Art Museum, through the munificent liberality of Charles W. West, Esq., seconded by other enterprising citizens. The salient features of the various departments of business are measurably revealed in the detailed history which follows, the general aspects indicating increased activity, healthful development, and generally improved conditions.

The past year's work, to the grain business, was the most important that has ever been enjoyed, not only because it was by far the largest ever transacted, but because it gives promise of important increase in the future. The total receipts of all kinds of grain aggregated 15,564,082 bushels, with an approximate value of $10,420,630, in comparison with 13,697,234 bushels and a value of $9,791,644 in the previous year, and 11,263,275 bushels and a value of $6,849,787 in 1878-79. The total shipments of corn, oats, and rye, show an increase of 1,487,656 bushels over 1879-80, and yet, because of the great reduction in the movement of wheat in the last ten weeks of the year, the aggregate shipments of all kinds of grain fell below the previous year, 494,055 bushels, having been 5,856,920 bushels, compared with 6,350,975 in the previous year, and 5,022,591 in 1878-79. Though, from a partial crop failure, the year shows a less aggregate outward movement, it was still nearly four times as great as it was six years ago. The aggregate approximate value of the grain which was shipped in the past year, was $4,295,254, in comparison with $5,792,359 in 1879-1880, and $4,149,590 in 1878-79. If to these figures were added the through shipments, not embraced therein, it would make the total inward movement 20,877,923 bushels, compared with 21,396,846 in 1879-80, and 18,151,595 in 1878-79, and the outward movement 10,670,761 bushels, in comparison with 14,050,587 in 1879-80, and 11,910,711 in 1878-79.

The business in provisions was favorable throughout, advancing prices, during the year, bringing both manufacturers and dealers a good return for the year's work. The total shipments of the hog product reached 162,351,896 pounds, with an approximate value of $14,378,484, in comparison with 124,611,380 pounds and a value of $9,059,451 in 1879-80. The aggregate receipts were 60,209,410 pounds, with an approximate value of $7,105,169, compared with 33,661,172 pounds, and a value of $2,234,408 in 1879-80. The whole number of hogs packed in the winter packing season of 1880-81 was 522,425 head, with an aggregate cost of $6,466,288, compared with 534,559 head and a cost of $6,207,587 in 1879-80.

The rapid development of the pig iron business of the city, in late years, continued in 1880-81, the aggregate sales having been much the largest ever made. The aggregate sales of pig iron, from first hands, for consumption, reached 334,702 tons, compared with 248,519 tons in 1879-80, and 212,281 tons in 1878-79, showing an increase in 1880-81, over the previous year, of 86,183 tons. The aggregate value of the pig iron sold in 1880-81 was, approximately, $9,006,830, compared with $8,708,105 in 1879-80, $4,583,146 in 1878-79, and $1,767,000 twelve years ago. The figures embrace iron sold for shipment, directly from the furnaces, as well as that which was actually received here, the latter having aggregated 137,164 tons, compared with 107,694 tons in the previous year, and 13,685 tons thirty-six years ago, while the actual shipments from the city in 1880-81 were 97,665 tons, compared with 64,409 tons in 1879-80, and 5,143 tons twenty years ago. A large business was done in manufactured iron, notwithstanding the strike among rolling-mill operatives, which embraced the summer months. The year witnessed an active demand and large sales, with declining prices, until arrested by the suspension of production in the western district by the strike. The year, consequently, was not remunerative. The stove manufacturers had a year of almost unexampled activity, with satisfactory prices. The receipts of nails exceeded any previous year, having reached 578,157 kegs, compared with 532,- 933 in 1879-80. The workers generally in iron, with the exception named, found constant employment, and the results show a year of satisfactory conditions.

Our business in flour has exceeded any preceding year. The receipts reached 852,955 barrels, with an approximate aggregate value of $4,124,705, in comparison with 771,900 barrels and a value of $4,020,634 in 1879-80. These figures do not comprise any part of the product of the mills located here, which has been greater than ever before, and which, in the approaching year, with the Lawrenceburg mill, that is entirely a Cincinnati enterprise, will reach, under favorable circumstances, 500,000 barrels. The shipments during the year were 642,338 barrels, with a value of $3,035,688, compared with 563,564 barrels and a value of $2,974,527 in 1879-80.

The past year brought the largest business to the whisky interest that has here ever been witnessed. The production of distilled spirits in Cincinnati and the adjacent cities in Kentucky reached 15,807,898.83 proof gallons, in comparison with 14,927,575.67 gallons in the previous year. If to this quantity, were added the receipts from other localities, it would swell the quantity produced here, and handled in original packages, to 24,874,994 gallons, with an approximate value of $29,959,310, in comparison with 22,523,310 gallons and a value of $26,490,226. The total quantity rectified in Cincinnati and Covington, in the past year, reached 15,725,336.18 proof gallons, compared with 15,004,735.93 gallons in the preceding year. The shipments from this city, embracing also alcohol, were the equivalent of 484,670 barrels, with an approximate value of $25,783,087, in comparison with 478,353 barrels and a value of $23,063,944.

The business in cotton exhibits the heaviest year's work in the history of the city. Not only do the figures show the largest movement, but the trade itself has exceeded any previous year. This is traceable largely to the Cincinnati Southern Railway, the benefits of which have been very apparent in this branch of our business. The entire receipts for the year reached 325,371 bales, with an approximate aggregate value of $15,617,808, in comparison with 312,319 bales and a value of $17,371,182 in 1879-80. The shipments were 318,003 bales, with an approximate value of $15,264,144, in comparison with 308,616 and a value of $17,473,837 in the preceding year.

The business in groceries makes a favorable showing, a decided increase having been noticed in nearly all branches. The disposition to make direct consignments from the Louisiana plantations, of sugar and molasses, is increasing, and these goods, being disposed of at auction, find wide distribution. Though the entire receipts of coffee show a reduction, the actual business transacted was greater than in the previous year. The entire receipts aggregated 201,707 bags, compared with 250,454 in the previous year; of sugar, the equivalent of 251,423 barrels, in comparison with 237,678, and of molasses and syrups 68,964 barrels, compared with 52,537, the receipts having exceeded any year since 1860-61. The aggregate value of the receipts of coffee, sugar, molasses, and rice, for the year, was $12,626,329, in comparison with $13,484,378 in the preceding year. The trade in teas, while not exhibiting a large increase, shows steady growth. Among our great departments of business there is no one in better shape than that of groceries.

The year, to the coal dealers, was the most satisfactory enjoyed for years, though the quantity received, because of interference with navigation by cold and dry weather, was decidedly below the preceding year, having aggregated 40,244,238 bushels or 1,492,817 tons, with an approximate aggregate value of $3,990,352, in comparison with 48,198,246 bushels or 1,787,230 tons in the previous year, with a value of $4,367,966. To the whole receipts, the river contributed, in the past year, 37,084,024 bushels, or 92.1 per cent., and the railroads 3,160,414 bushels, or 7.9 per cent. The marked increase from the Kanawha region is noticeable in late years, more than one-fourth of the entire receipts in the past year having been of this character. The shipments show an increase over any preceding year, having been 11,796,855 bushels or 436,920 tons, compared with 10,037,168 bushels or 371,747 tons in 1879-80. The receipts of coke aggregated 2,697,482 bushels, in comparison with 3,251,208 in the previous year. If to these figures were added the quantity manufactured here, it would show the entire supply to have been 4,780,282 bushels, in comparison with 5,151,708 in the preceding year.

The business in leaf tobacco exceeded any preceding year. The aggregate receipts reached 100,626 hogsheads and 20,770 cases and bales, in comparison with 88,965 hogsheads and 17,813 cases and bales in 1879-80. Of these, there were received at the warehouses 50,904 hogsheads, in comparison with 43,992 in the preceding year, with sales aggregating 50,631 hogsheads, which realized $9,532,372.76. The entire receipts of leaf tobacco approximated in value $17,953,350, compared with $14,000,150 in the preceding year. In chewing tobacco, embracing both fine-cut and plug, there were manufactured, in Cincinnati, Covington and Newport, 4,702,159½ pounds, compared with 5,270,133½ pounds in the preceding year. There were made in the same cities, of cigars and cigarettes, 122,953,700, compared with 119,243,325 in 1879-80. The aggregate taxes paid on manufactured tobacco, embracing cigars and cigarettes, and snuff, were $1,780,065.73, compared with $1,852,603.40 in 1879-80.

Though the business transacted in butter, because of the dry weather, was less than in 1879-80, it was still larger than in any year preceding that period. The total quantity received was represented by 131,060 packages, with an approximate value of $1,699,182, in comparison with 144,017, and a value of $1,810,153 in the previous year. The production of butterine, most of which finds a market elsewhere, was 884,365 pounds, with an approximate value of $137,076, the quantity having been slightly below that of 1879-80. The receipts of cheese, for the year, were 85,022 boxes, compared with 99,396, showing a steady falling off as compared with preceding years. The receipts of eggs were 134,908 packages, in comparison with 140,008 in 1879-80. These figures, however, do not embrace any part of the receipts in wagons, which would make a large aggregate.

The year, because of the severe winter, late spring and dry summer, was unfavorable to live stock. The receipts at the yards, however, to the facilities of which the growth of the business in late years is entirely traceable, doubtless exceeded any previous year. The entire receipts of cattle, hogs and sheep, at the various yards, reached 1,850,688 head, compared with 1,837,239 in 1879-80. These figures, because of instances of duplication, by removal from one yard to another, are somewhat above the actual aggregate receipts at the city, which of cattle were 229,776 head, compared with 229,451 in the preceding year; of hogs, 1,017,661, in comparison with 976,741, and of sheep, 444,722, compared with 525,544. The shipments were, of cattle, 103,387 head, in comparison with 105,485; of hogs, 272,834, compared with 245,773, and of sheep, 310,634, in comparison with 400,697. The aggregate approximate value of the receipts were, of cattle, $9,964,890, compared with $10,- 680,990; of hogs, $12,548,396, in comparison with $10,980,011; of sheep, $1,800,644, compared with $2,315,627; and of the shipments, of cattle, $6,203,220, in comparison with $6,962,010; of hogs, $3,001,174, compared with $2,629,771; and of sheep $931,902, in comparison with $2,003,485. The total receipts of cattle, hogs and sheep were 1,692,159 head, with an aggregate value of $23,813,830, in comparison with 1,731,746 head and a value of $23,976,628 in 1879-80.

The business transacted in horses shows a marked increase over the previous year, the sales at the stables having reached 33,153 head, with a value of $2,776,795, compared with 28,516 head and a value of $2,060,521 in 1879-80. The total receipts at the city, which, because of duplication at the stables, will fall below these figures, reached 24,427 head, compared with 21,733 in 1879-80, and the shipments 20,398, in comparison with 18,137.

Malt liquors make the largest showing, both in production and distribution, ever witnessed at Cincinnati. The whole quantity of malt liquors manufactured in Cincinnati, Covington and Newport, in the past year, reached 736,341 barrels or 22,826,571 gallons, with an approximate value of $5,706,642, compared with 708,320 barrels or 21,957,920 gallons and a value of $5,489,480 in 1879-80. To produce the results in the past year, there were consumed 1,807,284 bushels of malt, 1,413,088 pounds of hops, and 78,711 tons of ice. The shipments for the year, of malt liquors, were 226,885 barrels, in comparison with 200,887 barrels in the preceding year.

The business in both leather and hides, in the past year, was in excess of any preceding year. The receipts of hides, including those from cattle slaughtered here, aggregated, approximately, 26,002,156 pounds, in comparison with 21,028,280 in the previous year, of which there were shipped, approximately, 10,252,161 pounds, compared with 8,964,950 in 1879-80. The year was singularly active, both in the production of and trade in leather, without, on account of high prices for raw materials and a declining market for the manufactured article, having been satisfactory. More hides have been in the vats than ever before in the history of the business. The large quantity now consumed here in our growing manufactures of boots and shoes, harness, saddlery, etc., causes the movement of leather, as indicated by statistics, to but partially exhibit the actual business transacted. The receipts aggregated 43,751 bundles, compared with 41,348 in the previous year, and the shipments 42,164 bundles, in comparison with 42,240.

The shipments of soap show an increase, though not a large one, having been in the past year 485,134 boxes, in comparison with 482,377 in 1879-80. The receipts, compared with the production here, make a small showing. The shipments of candles show a falling off, having been 246,154 boxes, in comparison with 258,397 in 1879-80.

The trade in salt exceeded any previous year, the receipts having aggregated 408,503 barrels, compared with 349,885 barrels in the preceding year. To these figures, for the past year, should also be added the sales made for direct shipment by rail, from the furnaces to points of interior consumption, because of the low water in the Ohio, which would materially swell the aggregate. The shipments, too, showed an increase, though it cannot be so accurately defined, because of large but indefinite quantities of Ohio River and Kanawha salt having been shipped south in sacks. It is estimated that the equivalent of 30,000 barrels were so shipped in the past year, which would swell the total shipments, approximately, to 260,201 barrels.

compared with 246,446 barrels in the preceding year. The quantity of foreign salt which changes hands here is not so large as formerly, though the figures, embracing also the movement of other salt in bags, would seem to show to the contrary in the past year. The total value of the salt of all kinds received in the past year aggregated, approximately, $467,630, in comparison with $474,581 in 1879-80.

The business in hay shows an increase over any previous year. The receipts aggregated, including the approximate inward movement in wagons, the equivalent of 379,003 bales, with a value of $992,987, compared with 275,615 bales and a value of $694,549 in the preceding year. The receipts of bran, middlings, etc., also make the largest showing in our history, having aggregated 19,650 tons, with an approximate value of $294,330, compared with 19,161 tons and a value of $261,988. The receipts of clover, timothy, and grass seeds, because of diminished crops, exhibit a considerable reduction, having aggregated 66,187 bags, with a value of $572,188, in comparison with 87,155 bags and a value of $811,275 in 1879-80. The receipts of flax seed were 46,536 bags, compared with 53,452 bags in the preceding year.

The production of paper, and business therein, show encouraging increase. The details of the production of forty-three mills, mainly located in the immediate vicinity of Cincinnati, largely in the Miami Valley, show the quantity manufactured to have been 61,417,046 pounds, with an aggregate value of $3,800,355, compared with 55,409,106 pounds in the previous year and a value of $3,514,100. There were employed in the past year, in the production of this, 1,823 hands, with a cash capital of $1,663,000 and real estate occupied, valued at $2,272,000.

The business in foreign fruits and kindred goods was the most satisfactory, as far as remuneration is concerned, in many years. Nearly every line of goods underwent advance in the last half of the year, because of the diminished supplies of fruits and vegetables, on account of the dry weather. The receipts of dried apples and peaches showed a large increase, having aggregated 171,131 bushels, in comparison with 107,462, and the shipments 105,335 bushels, compared with 83,434. The receipts of green apples, stimulated by a large crop in the calendar year of 1880, aggregated 216,880 barrels, in comparison with 147,699 in the previous year, and the shipments 113,314 barrels, compared with 72,345, the movement having been but once exceeded. In this connection, too, it may be proper to speak of the material increase in the receipts of fruits and vegetables from the south, through the instrumentality of our enlarged facilities for quick transportation. Though this has already been marked, it is clear that it is but the feeble promise of what is to come, when our lines of direct communication shall reach the tropical districts, and the possibilities are more clearly revealed to the agriculturists of the south.

The production of starch during the year, because of one of the manufactories not having been in operation during a part of the year, though still showing a large aggregate, fell below the preceding year. The total product for the year was 24,225,481 pounds, in comparison with 25,604,091 pounds in the preceding year. The year was not in the main a satisfactory one. With largely increased cost to materials, there was, because of severe competition, little increase in the value, until a late period of the year, and when the advance came, it was not long in passing the price which allowed of foreign exportation, which for years has taken liberally of our production.

The business in lumber has been unusually active. It is estimated that the entire receipts of pine and hard lumber reached 180,000,000 square feet, with, including shingles, an approximate aggregate value of $5,581,000. The movement in naval stores is also the largest on record, the aggregate receipts having reached 58,017 barrels, compared with 51,633 in the preceding year, an important part of the receipts in the past year having passed over the Cincinnati Southern Railway. The trade in wool, during much of the past year, was at a disadvantage. A late spring, a spiritless and a continually declining market were features of the year. The receipts, however, were in excess of the previous year, having been 26,007 bales, with an approximate value of $1,508,406, compared with 22,491 bales, and a value of $1,574,370.

A large increase has been witnessed in the sales of petroleum, which, from first hands, embracing such oils as may have been shipped directly from the refineries, without coming to this city, and all kinds of petroleum, reached 383,048 barrels, with an aggregate approximate value of $2,158,932, in comparison with 303,627 barrels and a value of $1,884,950 in the preceding year.

The receipts of broom corn, notwithstanding an unfavorable crop in the year 1880, on which the market in the past year relied, was in excess of the preceding year, having been 2,246,300 pounds, compared with 1,662,918 pounds in the previous year. The shipment of brooms aggregated, approximately, 31,000 dozens, compared with 26,000 dozens in the previous year. The receipts of peanuts exceeded any previous year, having aggregated 685,835 bushels, with an aggregate approximate value of $582,959, in comparison with 563,770 and a value of $484,842 in the preceding year.

The receipts of hops aggregated 9,824 bales, with an approximate aggregate value of $422,432, in comparison with 8,748 bales and a value of $621,108. The receipts of hemp aggregated 25,910 bales, with an approximate value of $1,104,284, compared with 27,769 bales and a value of $846,954.

The receipts of potatoes in the past year aggregated 239,953 barrels, in comparison with 210,305 in the previous year; of beans, 42,528 bushels, in comparison with 41,323; of feathers, 11,923 sacks, compared with 9,780; of country cooperage, 356,321 packages, in comparison with 381,726, while the shipments of the latter reached 272,781 packages, in comparison with 267,416. The extraordinarily cold weather was favorable to the crop of ice. It is estimated there were stored for the Cincinnati, Covington and Newport markets, 400,000 tons within one hundred miles of Cincinnati. Of this, it is estimated 150,000 tons were consumed, and that about 100,000 tons were lost by wastage, leaving, approximately, 150,000 tons to be carried over into the new year.

After all that can be collected touching the movement of specific commodities, there always remains a great list of articles meriting separate mention, which cannot be readily measured, save by values. Among these are dry goods, the sales of which, at wholesale, aggregated $24,203,101, in comparison with $23,637,531, and wholesale clothing, which, including the sales of cloth by such houses as manufacture, were $17,605,133, compared with $15,334,030 in the preceding year. Following these, in natural succession, but showing aggregate sums not so large, are furniture, boots and shoes, buggies and carriages, oils, hardware, crockery, glassware, drugs and chemicals, books, paper, silverware, jewelry, hats, caps and furs, molding and picture frames, railroad supplies, wire goods, steam engines, boilers, wood-working machinery, musical instruments, paints, varnishes, burial goods, wooden ware, vegetables, crackers, candies, saddlery, harness, and a great line of manufactured goods, which embraces a singularly wide range of products entering into the actual wants of the whole people, from the smallest article constructed from iron and wood, to the great vessels which are used to conduct the river commerce of the city. In most of the departments the year has brought a good return for the season's work. In all there has been unusual activity.

Our imports from foreign countries through this and other ports, show a marked increase. The total value of goods imported under the new and old laws aggregated $1,497,262, in comparison with $1,092,366 in the preceding year, showing an increase of $404,896, or nearly 40 per cent., with duties, paid thereon, aggregating $603,306.70, in comparison with $474,983.02, an increase of $128,323.68. Of this importation, the value of the articles which came under the new law, for direct importation, reached $1,262,666, in comparison with 998,372, on which duties were paid amounting to $499,204.34, compared with $421,607.17 in 1879-80. Of the entire importation, under both laws, the largest value was in goods manufactured from cotton, which reached $249,990, compared with $173,091. The next was in woolen goods, the value of which was $218,101, in comparison with $182,851. Then follow, china, crockery, etc., $113,264, compared with $107,057; manufactures of flax, $106,133, compared with $66,993; glycerine, $86,390, in comparison with $52,042; fancy goods, toys, etc., $80,508, compared with $54,130; musical instruments, $76,742, in comparison with $67,010; barley, $63,293, none having been received in the previous year; and manufactures of silk, $51,333, compared with $40,193. A great many articles follow in the tables which appear elsewhere, that have been furnished by Col. D. W. McClung, Surveyor of the Port of Cincinnati, the aggregate value in each falling below $50,000, in nearly all of which an increase is witnessed. Exceptions are found in plate glass, jewelry and precious stones, and leaf tobacco, in each of which a large falling off is seen.

To our manufacturers, the year has been one of singular activity. In nearly all departments, there has been increased production, in some instances, as in the case of buggies and carriages, the production of which in late years, has shown most remarkable development, the increase having been of a very pronounced character. Relieved from the embarrassments growing out of the inflated values, which were imparted to raw materials by the extraordinary activity and the speculative movements which accompanied the successful return to specie payment, manufacturers have been in a condition to proceed with their work in the reasonable expectation of stable values, while the general wants of the country, and a growing inquiry from other countries, have furnished a good demand for almost everything produced. It is doubtful if there has ever been a period when the prosperity of our industrial interests was more secure. Not that profits have been generally large, for this is the fruit, ordinarily, of inflation, or at least of temporary conditions, but that the working forces of the city have had all they could do, at prices which were fair, when predicated on economical management. Our industries are like a strong man, with his faculties and muscles in good, healthy condition, and with plenty to do at living wages. In nearly all departments there has been large production, the products of the rolling mills being an exception, because of the long strike which suspended work generally in the mills of the western district. The figures, which appear in tabulated form elsewhere, from the valuable report of J. F. Blackburn, Esq., the Secretary of the Board of Trade and Transportation, show the aggregate production of the industries of Cincinnati, in the calendar year of 1880, to have been $163,351,497. If to these were added the production of Covington and Newport, which properly belong to Cincinnati, and which Mr. Blackburn estimates at $16,000,000, it would swell the aggregate to $179,351,497. To produce this result in Cincinnati proper, there were employed 5,450 establishments, working operatives numbering 80,839 persons, with cash capital invested aggregating $67,651,552, and occupying real estate valued at $40,096,458. These figures are easily made on paper, and their magnitude is likely to pass without attracting the attention they deserve, but when one remembers that the number of men, women and children now employed in production is greater, than was the entire population of the city little more than thirty years ago, and that the production itself has increased ten-fold in forty years, the growth and extent of our industrial forces become more apparent. With whatever drawbacks there may be, there never was more to encourage our manufacturers than now. The desirableness of removing all unnecessary expense to production is so apparent, that this will speedily come, the attention from thoughtful and active citizens, which local transportation is receiving, being one of the promises of such a consummation.

The only true standard for the measurement of the relation of the work of the different years, is the quantities of the various commodities which change hands. The quantity of material cannot be safely measured by aggregate values, which are effected by prices that fluctuate more or less, from year to year. Thus, the aggregate value of our manufactures, which last year reached $163,351,497, represents material which at the close of the war would have immensely exceeded these figures, while the sales of dry goods and clothing, which in the past year aggregated $41,808,234, represent, in packages, pieces, yards, etc., a very much larger quantity than the same sum would have purchased when the prices for standard fabrics were from six to eight times greater than those now prevailing. Still it is possible to aggregate pecuniary results in a way that is not practicable with the physical in statistics, and with this end in view, an effort is made to reach the approximate value of the receipts and shipments of merchandise, as well as the tonnage itself. From the detailed table, which appears elsewhere, it will be seen that the approximate aggregate value of the receipts of specific commodities, in the past year, was $179,712,718, compared with $167,912,902 in 1879-80, showing an increase of $11,799,816, and of shipments $177,364,776, in comparison with $169,548,267, an increase of $7,816,509. In these figures, are not embraced dry goods, clothing, books, hats and caps, silks, millinery goods, paper, musical instruments, silver ware, jewelry, and a large list of articles, including a great many of our manufactured articles, which can not be specifically classified in the record of movement, but which make a large aggregate. If the approximate value of these were added to the figures already given, it would swell the value of the receipts, in the past year, approximately, to $274,651,218, compared with $256,137,902 in 1879-80, and of the shipments to $271,973,776, in comparison with $253,827,267, an increase in the former of $18,513,316, and in the latter of $18,146,509.

The aggregate value of the products of our manufacturing industry, the number of hands employed, the value of real estate occupied, the cash capital invested, and the number of establishments engaged in Cincinnati, for each year in which statistics have been compiled touching these particulars, will be found in the following table:

Manufactures, Trade and Commerce of Cleveland.

THE MANUFACTURES, TRADE AND COMMERCE OF CLEVELAND,

1880-81.

Compiled from Annual Report of THEODORE SIMMONS, Secretary Cleveland Board of Trade and LEVI F. BAUDER, Auditor of Cuyahoga county.

THE CITY OF CLEVELAND.

The favorable location at the point where the Cuyahoga mingles its waters with Lake Erie, latitude  $41^{\circ} 30'$  north, longitude  $81^{\circ} 41'$  west from Greenwich, was chosen as the head-quarters of the original pioneers, and named Cleaveland in honor of the chief of the party. The spelling of the name was both with and without the "a," until after the war of 1812, when the "a" was permanently dropped.

The growth of the city from its first real settlement is illustrated by the following figures of

CITY REAL ESTATE.

Cleveland includes within her city limits 17,165 square acres, or within a fraction of 27 square miles. The streets, paved and unpaved, would make a continuous highway 369.7 miles long, and if the alleys were added, 424.7 miles. The city has 54 miles of paved streets, 26½ miles of curbed streets, 104 miles of graded streets, 82½ miles of sewers, 12 miles of dock frontage, 15 swing bridges, and 17 stationary bridges.

The city, in its corporate capacity, owns about three hundred and twenty-six square acres, as follows:

Cemeteries .....	87.450	Police stations .....	1.714
Fire-engine houses .....	2.232	Schools .....	32.889
Infirmary farm .....	76.870	Water-works .....	12.242

INTERNAL REVENUE.

The United States Internal Revenue Office, in this city, was established in September, 1862, Hon. R. C. Parsons assuming the duties of collector, since which time until December 31st, 1879, $22,231,161.43 has been collected and deposited, as follows:

R. C. Parsons, September 1, 1862, to September 14, 1866.....	$7,279,937 13
H. N. Johnson, September 15, 1866, to March 4, 1867.....	1,410,589 85
R. D. Noble (acting), March 5, 1867, to April 15, 1867 .....	212,008 56
T. Jones, Jr., April 16, 1867, to April 30, 1870.....	5,290,148 58
Peter Rose, May 1, 1870, to August 31, 1875.....	4,603,357 45
C. B. Pettengill, September 1, 1875, to December 31, 1879.....	3,435,119 86
W. S. Streator, January 1 to December 31, 1880.....	778,539 93

$23,009,701 36

The district originally consisted of the counties of Cuyahoga, Lake and Summit. On January 1, 1876, Geauga, Ashtabula, Trumbull, Portage, Mahoning, Carroll, Jefferson, Stark and Columbiana counties were added. October 2d, 1876, Ashland, Holmes, Wayne, Medina and Lorain counties were consolidated with this district, making a total of seventeen counties.

SHIP-BUILDING.

The early navigation of the lakes by white men was carried on with open boats called batteaux, strongly built so as to weather ordinary storms, and many of them capacious enough to carry fifty men. Batteaux were employed in the transportation of troops, supplies, and even cannon, cattle and horses. The first craft of vessel proportions built at the port of Cleveland was the schooner Zephyr, of thirty tons burthen, constructed in 1808, by Lorenzo Carter on Superior lane, and launched from the foot of that street. This craft was sailed by Captain Stow. The next year Joel Thorp built here the schooner Sally, of five or six tons burthen, and Alexander Simpson built the schooner Dove, of just about the same tonnage. In 1810 the schooner Ohio, of sixty tons burthen, was built in Cleveland by Murray & Bixby. Levi Johnson built the Pilot in 1813, between which time and the year 1849, when the custom-house records were opened, no account of ship-building at this port appears to have been kept. In 1865 a list of vessels built in this district from 1849 up to that year was published with the annual report of the Board of Trade. In 1878 another list was published. Each of those lists contained many errors in names and tonnage—some ludicrous, others serious.

The following table exhibits the ship-building in this district for thirty-two years:

MARINE AND CUSTOMS STATISTICS.

The following tables have been carefully compiled from annual custom house statements for the past ten years. The valuations in the coastwise or American trade are estimated each year by custom house clerks. Unfortunately they cannot be called accurate; yet may be useful for the purposes of comparison. The figures in the foreign trade are more nearly exact, since the values of imports and exports are sworn to by the shippers:

	Entered.			Cleared.
	Coastwise.	Foreign.	Total.	Coastwise.	Foreign.	Total.

The total valuation of receipts and shipments added together, coastwise and foreign, and the total valuation of foreign and domestic receipts and shipments will be found in the subjoined table:

	Coastwise.	Foreign.	Total.
1870 .....	$84,671,849	$1,130,415	$85,802,264

Totals.....	$135,561,785	$15,438,024	$750,999,809

It should be noted that while these coastwise statistics wholly represent lake trade, the foreign imports largely, if not principally, are shipped by rail in bond.

THE LUMBER TRADE.

The lumber business of Toledo for the year ending December, 1881, has been the largest yet recorded.

The demand for bridge timber and special sawed bill timber has been unprecedentedly large, and the timber mills have run to their full capacity the entire season. The mills in the city cut 43,050,000 feet, 1,500,000 shingles, and 10,750,000 lath.

THE GRAIN TRADE.

From the Annual Report of Denison B. Smith, Secretary of the Toledo Produce Exchange.

EXHIBITS FOR 1881, AND FOR PREVIOUS YEARS.

Below will be seen tables indicating the sources of our supply of flour, grain and other commodities, and the quantity by each. Of course, the major portion of the incoming commerce reaches us by way of the great Wabash system of railways, which, year by year, is adding by purchase and building, to its vast network of roads. The Lake Shore, Dayton and Michigan, Pennsylvania, Canada Southern, Columbus and Toledo, Ann Arbor and Grand Trunk, Toledo, Delphos and Burlington, and the Miami and Erie Canal, have as usual contributed their proportion of business.

The eastern movement by rail does not present new features worthy of special note. The Canada Southern, with its N. Y. C. and N. Y. and L. E. and W. railway connections at Buffalo, has moved forward the greatest rate per cent., while the Lake Shore, Pennsylvania, and Baltimore and Ohio lines have furnished the usual facilities.

The Grand Trunk Railway, and a propeller line hence to Sarnia, has been, at times, a favorite route for the distribution of corn to New England.

The Lake, and its eastern water and rail connections, continues to be the leading route for our eastward bound grain. In a previous column I have commented more at length upon its influence generally upon transportation rates.

THE COAL TRADE.

The following table shows the receipts of coal here for the year 1881, with comparison with 1880. The large increase shown over last year is owing to the addition of the Ohio Central R. R., the improved facilities for handling it here, and the increase of consumption in manufacturing:

	Tons.

Total, 1881.....	1,244,703
Total, 1880 .....	441,202

THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT

shows the amount of some of the different kinds of materials used largely in manufacturing, received in Toledo during the year 1881:

Cotton, number of bales.....	262,000
Wool, " pounds.....	14,132,000
Hides, " " .....	9,080,000
Iron ore, number of tons.....	56,000
Wheat, number of bushels .....	16,928,974
Corn, " " .....	12,282,224
Flax seed, number of pounds.....	17,280,000
Lumber, pine etc., feet.....	294,000,000
Lumber, hardwood (estimated) (shipped) feet.....	25,000,000
Iron, (merchant) tons.....	76,964
Pig iron, tons (estimates).....	8,740
Material for paper, (shipped) tons.....	5,000
Scrap and old iron, " " .....	6,800

The last two tables are, especially,

SUGGESTIVE TO MANUFACTURERS.

Scarcely any of the wool, cotton, hides, iron ore, iron scraps, or material for paper, and comparatively little of the other articles are utilized here by the manufacturer. The great bulk of this material is conveyed away some 1,000 miles for the manufacture, and the product returned here for consumption, sale or distribution; while at no place can it be manufactured cheaper than here, for here is cheap power as indicated by the immense amount and great variety of cheap coal at hand; added to this is cheap living, consequently, cheap labor.

Nothing, save actual experience, can prove more conclusively than the above tables, that Toledo ere long must become

A GREAT MANUFACTURING CENTER.

The right place to manufacture successfully, is evidently at a point where the raw material accumulates naturally, and where, at the same time, there is cheap power and a market for the product. Toledo has for many years furnished all these conditions except cheap power.

Situated at the local point of 18 railway lines, with canal and lake navigation, material necessarily accumulates here, and here a market is created for the product; and, now, since there are railroads leading direct to Toledo from the different coal fields of Ohio, supplying us with all the varieties of cheap coal needed in manufacturing, and making Toledo one of the greatest coal depots on the chain of lakes, cheap power is amply provided and assured for all time to come.

THE DESTRUCTION OF A DECADE.

The following table, showing the loss in this city by fire since 1872, the insurance paid, the loss over the insurance, and the cost of running the department, is furnished by Chief Avery:

ADDENDA.

The settlement with the contractors having the contract for the public printing, required by section 837 of the Revised Statutes of Ohio, has been regularly made, and it was found that G. J. Brand & Co. had received 5,135 reams of paper and had used for the public printing 5,054 reams, leaving a balance in their hands of eighty-one reams, which was turned over to the state at the close of the year ending November 1, 1881; that Nevins & Myers had received 1,041 reams of paper, had used 857 reams, and had a balance to turn over to the state of 184 reams; and that Layman & Brother had received 1,140 reams, had used 1,109½ reams, and had a balance to turn over to the state of thirty and one half reams.
